

Speak with Confidence Powerful Presentation Skills

A One-Day Workshop
Presented by Allison Blankenship
Precision Speaking, Inc.

It's been said that life is a presentation – how ready are you? Think about your most important presentation or meeting and ask yourself the following:

- Do people check their Blackberries while you talk?
- Can you answer the one question everyone is thinking?
- Do you read your slides from the computer or screen?
- Does senior management interrupt your presentation or conversation?
- Do you ever run out of the time allotted to your topic?

If the answer is yes to any of these questions, you are missing a prime opportunity to leverage yourself as a valuable asset and topic expert.

That's where the Precision Speaking System™ can propel you to the front of the line. Using a process-driven system and proven speaking strategies, you engage and hold a group's attention, either in person or virtually. You also create a strong core message that is remembered and repeated, and you appear calm and confident despite any nerves and anxiety.

Join us for a one-day seminar on Tuesday, October 18, 2011 for a hands-on workshop to apply these expert skills:

- A step-by-step organizational technique to hone in your targeted message and create results
- Be able to hold audience attention and keep them focused on your message
- Develop a motivated sequence to create buy-in and persuade decision-makers
- Anticipate and handle unexpected questions
- Trouble-shooting techniques you can use in situations to avoid being flustered or tongue-tied
- Create a more dynamic program with established tools that make your program unforgettable

Participation is limited to 30 people; lunch and parking at The Club is included in registration of $129 before 10/1/2011 and $159 after. For more information, call Allison
